Beautiful Country Marriage in Ocean Methodist Church.

MISS BEVILLE TO MR. DE SHAZO

Miss Amelia Poindexter Becomes the Bride of Mr. Carter in Bedford.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BUTLERLAND, VA., June 15.—Ocean Methodist Episcopal Church, at this place, last night was the scene of a beautiful marriage, when at 8:30 o'clock Miss Octavia Beville became the bride of Mr. Mervin La. Vell DeShazo. The church was beautifully decorated with white and yellow flowers and evergreens. The bride entered the church to the sweet strains of Lohengrin's march, played by Mr. C. Frank Scott, who presided at the organ. The couple was married under a floral arched canopy. The officiating minister was Rev. C. D. Crowley, of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Mr. B. Edgar Jones, of Surry county, was best man, and Miss Bena Ella Beville, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Little Lillian Estelle Sutherland was flower girl. She was dressed in white silk, with yellow sash. The following couples attended the bride and groom: Miss Iva May DeShazo with Claude Beville; Miss Annie Field Sutherland with Arthur Pigram; Miss Annie Pigram with Berkeley Clarke; Miss Leo Hargrave with Charles Pigram; Miss Blanche DeShazo with Merrill Bragg; Miss Lucile Bragg with Walter T. Gordon. The bridesmaids were handsomely dressed in white organdy and carried ferns and anisets. The groom was met at the altar by his bride, who was handsomely dressed in white silk and carried white roses.

After the marriage, the bridal party was given a fine reception at the residence of the groom. The bride is the attractive and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Beville, of this place, and the groom a prominent and successful farmer of this county.

The presents were numerous and handsome, attesting the popularity of the young couple. They have the best wishes of a host of friends. Among the far-away guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. DeShazo and Miss Clara DeShazo, of Dover, N. J.

ELEGANT WEDDING.

Miss Amelia E. Poindexter the Bride of Ezra T. Carter.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
GOODS, BEDFORD COUNTY, VA., June 15.—At "Mont View," the handsome home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Poindexter, of Bedford county, Va., Miss Amelia E. Poindexter was united in marriage to Mr. Ezra Thomas Carter, of Gate City, Va., at high noon Thursday, by Rev. W. V. Royal, of Forest, Va. The bride, most charmingly gowned in a traveling suit of blue silk and hat to match, carrying a large bouquet of white and pink roses, entered the spacious, decorated parlor, accompanied by her three bridesmaids, Misses Nannie Poindexter, Katie Mathison and Flora Carter, in white organdy. The attendants of the bridegroom were Messrs. H. D. Sander, Hugh B. Poindexter, and best man, J. P. Kane and E. W. Poindexter, all in conventional black. Previous to the ceremony Professor Emil Berger, of Lynchburg, rendered Mendelssohn's famous wedding march, and during the ceremony the soft strains of "O Promise Me" were most successfully given.

The bride looked bewitching in her lovely traveling suit.

At the termination of the marriage ceremony the company were ushered into the spacious, decorated dining-room, where an elegant luncheon was prepared.

At 2 P. M. the bridal party, consisting of the bride and groom, the bridesmaids and Mr. and Mrs. P. Kane, left on a Northern tour. On the 25th, Mr. and Mrs. Carter will return to their future home, Gate City, Va.

The bride is a distinguished A. M. of Randolph-Macon Woman's College and has won high honors in the progress of the race. She is, besides, a young lady of most amiable and lovely disposition and a noble young woman. The groom, Mr. Carter, is a prominent young lawyer of Gate City, of fine social and business standing.

The Mysterious Message

This is the telegram which lured seven-year-old Charles Frederick Muth from school:
"Mother seriously hurt and wants to see her boy right away."
"CHARLES MUTH."
Mysterious man meets boy with this: "Come on, Fred; you are wanted at home."
Mysterious message: "Don't worry about Fred. He is in our yard playing, and will be home all right."

House Surrounded, and Arrest of Man Expected Within Few Hours.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 15.—As the hours passed to-day, hotter and hotter grew the trail of the kidnapper of little Charles Frederick Muth. All signs on the way have led the detectives to New York, and it is in that city that the denouement

CHARLES FREDERICK MUTH,
The Missing Philadelphia Boy.

is to be expected within a few hours at the most.

If success crowns the labors of the New York sleuths, as now seems likely, dist Church, the pastor, Rev. D. H. Tuttle, performing the ceremony.

The scene was rendered striking by the large gathering of prominent men and women in evening dress, the brilliant lights, and the church decorations of carnations, smilax and asparagus fern. The ushers were Mr. McCrory, of Greensboro; Captain N. H. McGee, of Dr. J. S. Highsmith, and Mr. G. B. Underwood.

On their passage down the aisle, the bride party were saluted by the "Wedding March," by Miss Dixie Fox, organist, and were preceded by the little flower girl, Misses Martha and Pauline Hood, of Kingston, N. C., who wore acorn and pleated white dresses and lace, and carried sweet peas.

The maid of honor, Miss Blanche Alphon Thornton, was gowned in white lingerie, princess style, and her flowers were pink roses.

The bridesmaids, whose dresses were princess embroidered lingerie, with shower bouquets of sweet peas, were Misses Grace Belle Horner, of New York City; Garnet and Clara Thornton, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Grace McMillon, of Fayetteville. The bride's exquisite gown was of white messaline over silk, with old lace, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilacs of the valley. She was given away by her father, and was joined at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Lickman, of Morganton, N. C. During the ceremony, Schubert's serenade was rendered.

After the marriage, the bride party and friends were driven to the Thornton family home, No. 26 North Anderson Street, where congratulatory guests thronged the spacious parlors and hall, beautified by sweet peas, ferns, roses, carnations and smilax. The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallyburton left for a honeymoon tour to New York City, Niagara, Canada, and the Thousand Islands.

Donald—Dow.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
EUROKA MILLS, VA., June 15.—Thursday evening at 8 o'clock the home of Mr. A. W. Donald was the scene of a beautiful marriage, when his cousin, Mr. David B. Donald, of Scotland, wedded Miss Nellie Dow, of Scotland. Mr. A. W. Donald was the best man of the occasion, and Mrs. A. W. Donald was matron of honor.

Rev. Robert Lee McNair, of the Village Presbyterian Church, was the officiating clergyman.

An elegant supper was served to the many guests present, and dancing and other festivities were kept up till a late hour of the night.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald have recently arrived from Scotland, and after a week's sojourn at Mr. A. W. Donald's will make their home in New York.

They will make their home in Winchester.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WINCHESTER, VA., June 15.—Miss Grace Russell, daughter of James Russell, of this county, and John A. Massie, a Winchester business man, were married at the parsonage of the M. E. Church, last night, Rev. D. H. Kern, the pastor, officiating.

They will make their home in Winchester.

TO VISIT BATTLEFIELDS.

Major Owen and Mr. Coggeshall, of New York, Here Monday.

Major Owen, of the old "Washington Artillery," and Mr. Coggeshall, both of New York City, are coming South to visit the battlefields of the M. E. Church, last night, Rev. D. H. Kern, the pastor, officiating.

They will make their home in Winchester.

CHARLES FREDERICK MUTH,
The Missing Philadelphia Boy.

the credit will belong to Captain Donaghy and his men, who gathered together the elusive Charles Muth in Philadelphia and made possible the unravelling of the knot of mystery. Inspector McLaughlin's men are working on the clue given them by Captain Donaghy and had to-night surrounded the house in New York to which the kidnapper is believed to have fled with the boy.

It has been learned by the police that the man is an Armenian. He has been visiting in Philadelphia and has worked here. He lived for a time in the neighborhood of the Muth home, and while there made the acquaintance of the little boy, who has now been stolen.

CORRUPTION CHARGED IN CITY WATER WORKS

Charlotte Institutes Suit Against Engineers of the Work.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 15.—City Attorney Hugh W. Harris has filed with the clerk of the Superior Court the necessary papers in an action against W. T. McCormick, A. E. Boardman and C. H. Campbell, for the recovery of $14,644.48, the sum alleged to have been corruptly and fraudulently misappropriated by the defendants while employed in the construction of the city's new water works system.

The action is brought by the Board of Water Commissioners of the city of Charlotte. Campbell was superintendent of the city water works, and McCormick and Boardman consulting engineers, undertaking the construction of the system.

The complaint recites individual and collective instances of alleged conspiracy and fraud, gives facts and figures concerning the sums secured and does not mince words. The water commission stumbled into the facts in examining the reports of Superintendent Campbell, and thereafter held sessions almost nightly in an effort to get at the bottom of the trouble.

The outcome was the voluntary resignation of Campbell under fire and the departure of McCormick and Boardman. The city has instituted the suit in an effort to recover the money.

Personals and Briefs.

M. P. McDonald, formerly on duty at the Trigg yard, being in charge of the construction of the torpedo boats and United States cruiser Galveston, is in Richmond, in connection with the building company on Lake Michigan.

Miss Marie Louise Rhodes has returned to her home in Cartersville, after a very delightful visit of a month to friends in Richmond.

Mrs. A. B. Pillsbury, of West Point, Va., is now at the Virginia Home for Incapables and would be very glad to see her friends.

NO BURGLAR YET.

Police Still Unable to Throw
Light on English Robbery.

There is still no light on who the thief was who entered the English home Wednesday morning and indirectly caused the death of Mrs. English. The police are waiting for information and are hoping of locating in this way the man by means of the stolen jewelry.

The elastic car traveler who went to Petersburg Thursday afternoon and was reported as suspected of having committed the burglary at the English home, for only a drunk who gave the name of C. B. Young, and was fined $5 in the Petersburg Police Court yesterday morning.

Chief Werner said last night that there was nothing in the case of this alleged suspect.

Wanted—A Forger.

At the request of Chief Sylvester, of Washington, the police of this city are on the lookout for a forger bearing the cognomen of Julius Steinhilber, who is wanted by the police for information and for several dark deeds. He is said to be a man about forty years of age, a little over five feet in height, smooth shaven, stout, and probably wearing a moustache. The man speaks with a foreign accent, and when last seen, wore a blue coat and a straw hat.

TWO ORDINANCES ARE PUT TO SLEEP

Merchants Will Not Have to Move Skids at Pedestrians' Will.

BARS NOT CLOSE AT MIDNIGHT

Committee Lays Both Measures
on Shelf—Police Ask Pawnshop Regulation.

Interesting from start to finish last night was the meeting of the Committee on Charters, Ordinances and Reform. The session was lengthy, and decidedly splotchy, and the two ordinances that were finally voted down, evoked much discussion, which became just heated enough to keep alive one's interest.

The proposed ordinance affecting the placing of skids and similar obstructions across sidewalks, more particularly in the neighborhood of Fourteenth Street, and which obliges the merchant in front of whose store the obstruction is placed to remove them at the request of all pedestrians, was the first on the docket, and a committee representing the Wholesale Merchants' Association was present at the meeting to register their objections to the move. Those who spoke were Mr. George Bryan, Mr. E. W. Gates, and Mr. Isaac B. Davenport.

Replying to the objections raised by these gentlemen to the passage of the ordinance, Mr. Minor, chairman of the committee, made a strong talk in favor of the ordinance. He stated that such an ordinance had more than once been advocated by City Attorney H. R. Polard and that it was necessary to protect the comfort and welfare of the public.

"Change of Heart."

Mr. A. Belme Blair admitted that he had voted for the ordinance when it had come up before the committee recently for recommendation to the Council, but declared that he had undergone a change of opinion since his recent visit to New York City, and that now he would vote against the ordinance. He spoke of the method that the great metropolis has of having the drays, etc., back up to the warehouses and force the pedestrians to walk out in the middle of the street.

He said it was the custom of cities to set apart certain places in the city for certain business, and that by a long-established custom Fourteenth Street had come to be the reserved territory in this city. He advocated giving this section over to the commerce merchants.

Mr. M. Phil Seay made a strong talk for the ordinance, stating that the merchants who had spoken before the committee had said that they were carrying out the requirements of the ordinance in fact, and that in his opinion the passage of the ordinance would inflict no hardship upon the merchants at all. Mr. Seay said the public had grown so accustomed to submitting to numerous indignities and inconveniences that were not just that they did not demur, but that nevertheless, the wrongs ought to be remedied.

Opening of Saloons.

Next on the docket was the ordinance regulating the opening and closing of saloons, the bars to close at midnight and open again at five in the morning. Mr. Blair was the first to speak, and he stated that, in his opinion, the saloon-keepers of Richmond were far above those of any other city he had ever traveled in.

He said that the chief trouble lay with the so-called social clubs, "which," as we know, are fake clubs, run as much for gambling establishments as for anything else. I, for one, am going to vote against the ordinance.

Mr. White took the same stand, as did Mr. Blair, stating that he had purposed speaking along the same line, but as the former speaker "had saved himself the expense of a whole lot of hot air that I intended to give you."

When put to the vote, the ordinance was lost. The vote is as follows: Noes—Messrs. Blair, Dabney, Lynch, Seay and White.

Ayes—Messrs. Dabney, Green, Umlauf and Minor.

A communication from the Board of Police Commissioners was then read, asking for the adoption of an ordinance closing all pawnshops at 8 o'clock at night and midnight on Saturday, and opening them at 7 in the morning.

It is likely that the ordinance will be ready for the Council at their next meeting. The communication from the Board reads, in part, as follows:

"The Board of Police Commissioners respectfully request that an ordinance be adopted regulating the opening and closing of pawnshops in this city. An ordinance of this kind would be of great benefit to the Police Department. The pawnshop is the first thought of the robber after committing a theft. A hall

For these reasons the adoption of the ordinance was requested by the Board.

FIGHT OVER DRAINAGE.

Gallinger and Others Oppose Use of Irrigation Fund.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 15.—Senator Gallinger does not believe in diverting the irrigation fund so as to utilize it for drainage purposes, and said so to-day when Senator Mallory attempted to get the Senate to act on a resolution authorizing a survey of the Florida Everglades with the end in view of determining the practicability of draining them and converting them into farming lands. He referred to Senator Hansbrough's bill for the drainage of the million acres of overflowed land in North Dakota, and also to other projects, saying that there are many swamp lands in the New England States, and adding: "If the country is going to get late that kind of game, we want to get into it."

S Senator Tillman concurred and said: "If this kind of cake is to be served out, I will want my piece." Senators Stone and Hansbrough defended the policy. The resolution was ultimately sent to the calendar.

Casino Bill Next Week.

Manager Wells has certainly given the public the best vaudeville acts obtainable at this time of the season—in fact, a number of the acts seen here in the past few weeks could not be obtained at any other time, as they are European acts that have been imported to this country for the New York Hippodrome.

The special feature for next week will be Miss Kitty Trane and her trained ponies and dogs. This is one of the big European novelties, and is a pleasing and entertaining performance for the older folk as well as the little ones.

NEGRO CONFERENCE.

Will Try to Cut Down Awful
Death Rate.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
HARRISON, VA., June 15.—All colored people interested in the progress of the race are invited to attend the negro conference here June 27th to 29th.

The first day will be devoted to practical methods of farming. Housing and hygiene are other important subjects to be discussed.

The conference aims to cut down the tremendous death rate from consumption by urging better housing and hygiene. An interesting feature of the conference will be the exhibits of a model house and model room for the prevention of consumption, and for the cure of an advanced case, and of agricultural implements and methods of cultivating the soil.
